Luise needs a break

- Best-selling author Julia Knörschild tells about the importance of taking breaks and recovering
- An inspiring story about dealing with boredom and mindfully recharging your energy

Luise has had a long day at kindergarten and feels completely drained. Everything is annoying, nothing is fun. Her toys are boring, her mother is stressed out – and all this leads to a big clash! That's when mommy realizes that she urgently needs a break, and so does Luise! Together, they go to the park where fresh air, colourful leaves and the idea of running as fast as a cheetah brighten up Luise's mood. Running, playing and exploring helps them both recharge their batteries. Anger turns into joy and creativity replaces boredom. In the end, Luise and her mother make a treasure map of all the beautiful things they have discovered – and realize that breaks are truly a treasure to cherish.
